ECG 1: BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

Title: New Cable Company

Info: If you live in Onalaska, Holmen, or West Salem Charter will have to fight for your business. Onalaska Mayor Jim Bialecki announced that Hiawatha Broad Band Communications will provide cable to the three communities. Hiawatha already provides cable in Winona and Saint Charles, Minnesota. Bialecki hopes the new company will lower the rates here. Onalaska has a contract with charter, but that can't stop another company from moving in. Hiawatha will also offer internet and telephone service and will be available in the next 6 to 8 months. But as of right now, Hiawatha Cable will not be available in the City of La Crosse.

Title: Employees Called To Active Duty

Info: Employers across the state are making plans to cover for reservists and National Guard members called up for active duty in the war with Iraq. Companies say they're hiring temporary help or having other employees work overtime until the reservists and guard members return. More than 39 hundred reservists and guard troops from Wisconsin have been called up. Particularly hard hit are police departments and sheriff's departments. Federal law guarantees jobs for guard members and reservists when they return from active duty.

Title: Investing

Info: Worries about the war with Iraq, how long it will take, and how much it will cost are reasons people are skittish about investing in the stock market. Investment Adviser, Mark Bertrang says a lot of people are waiting to invest because of the situation in the Middle East, but he says now is a great time to buy. If you are leery of investing in the stock market Bertrang say put your money in certificates of deposit. The interest rates are low and so are the prices.

FCC 2: GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Title: Gaming Compacts

Info: The Wisconsin Supreme Court may get involved with gaming compacts. The Legislature wants the court to block Governor Jim Doyle from signing anymore gaming compacts with American Indian tribes. A committee is expected to meet later to take up the matter. G-O-P lawmakers have been engaged in a bitter partisan battle with Doyle over gaming approval. The legislature has twice passed bills to give them oversight on the deals, but Doyle has vetoed them both.

Title: La Crosse County Executive

Info: The La Crosse County Executive issue is the most talked about issue on the April 1st ballot. A couple of local groups came out in support of the idea of electing a county executive. The two groups are the La Crosse Area Chamber of Commerce and the local American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. They say electing an executive would improve leadership, create a better system of checks and balances and provide accountability. The groups say the county executive position would not be an added cost; it would simply replace the county administrative coordinator position. Opponents say the board is working fine as it is and does not need, what they call, another layer of government.

Title: Budget Plan

Info: Minnesota Governor Tim Pawlenty is traveling around the state getting feedback about his budget fix plans. The state is facing 4-point-2 billion-dollar deficit. The governor says its time to stop talking about it and get down to work. Pawlenty says cuts are crucial to even local governments to solve the states multi-billion dollar shortfall. Area leaders told Pawlenty they want to help, but the cuts as they stand would devastate some cities. Pawlenty says he will work with area leaders on the numbers while offering suggestions to cut back.

Title: Gambling Compacts

Info: The Federal Government has approved Governor Doyle's gambling agreement with one of the states Indian tribes. The Bureau of Indian Affairs approved the compact with the Potawatomi tribe that operates two casinos in Wisconsin, one in Milwaukee and the other in far northeast Wisconsin north of Green Bay. The approval comes as some republican state lawmaker5s continue to try to defeat these new agreements, in court if necessary.

News 19 and the Tribune provided an open forum for people to ask question and give their opinion. Scott Hackworth and Diana Henry from News 19 hosted the event, which was videotaped and broadcast on WXOW. WXOW19 promoted the event in advance encouraging audience participation.

FCC 3: ENVIRONMENT

Title: Asphalt Plant

Info: A newly released traffic impact analysis shows an asphalt plant on Brice Prairie will not greatly affect that area's roads. Mathy Construction commissioned the study. The study was the topic of discussion at a county committee meeting. Mead and Hunt reviewed its findings, saying an average of 33-hundred vehicles use roads Z, AN, AND OT on a daily basis. Another 8-hundred vehicles can be added to that number by 2013 for normal growth. A proposed asphalt plant would only account for half that amount. Mathy Construction has said they will help for road improvements.

Title: It would cost about one-point-two billion dollars and produce 24 thousand jobs. Info: That's a projection involving a proposed project, which seeks to improve navigation on the upper Mississippi by rebuilding and improving the lock and dam system. The La Crosse Area Development Corporation sponsored an economic forum, focusing on the federal government's study of the lock and dam system. The proposed project needs the ok of the Army Corps of Engineers, the Fish and Wildlife Services and the DNR. The locks and dams were first constructed in the 19-30's. If the proposed project becomes reality, it could take decades to complete.

Title: Xcel Energy

Info: A new bill by a Minnesota State House Committee is getting some special attention in Winona. The committee passed a bill, which would allow Xcel Energy to store more radioactive waste at the Prairie Island Plant near Red Wing. The vote was largely along party lines, with Republicans supporting it. Xcel officials say that without more storage space the plant would have to shut down in 2002. Several DFL committee members say the bill is moving too quickly for such a major policy decision. The bill goes next to the House Governmental Operations and Veterans Affairs Committee.

Title: Whooping Cranes

Info: The first whooping crane to migrate from Florida is back in Wisconsin. Researchers say the crane was spotted in Southeastern Wisconsin with about three other Sandhill Cranes. It's identified as one of the five whooping cranes that survived the first year of the reintroduction effort that began in 2001.

FCC 4: EDUCATION

Title: School Closing

Info: The virtual school of Winona is closing its doors. Cotter Schools President Craig Junker sent a letter out this week to Cotter High School parents, faculty and staff. Junker says the virtual school will stop operations on June 30th. Junker says administrators had been trying to come up with a way to keep the school operating in the wake of funding cuts. But Junker says it was determined the school is no longer financially viable.

Title: School And War

Info: Teachers are trying to keep kids in the loop about the war in Iraq. We visited a U-S History class at Logan High. One teacher there, Dave Johnson, feels it's necessary to talk with students about the events unfolding in Iraq. He also wants to give them a perspective on events in the past, which in his opinion have built up to this war.

Title: Holmen School Referendum

Info: The Holmen School District will have a referendum on the April 1st ballot. At issue is whether the district can build a new school and remodel another one. Holmen Superintendent Fred Frick says there are problems with overcrowding and a new facility would help solve it. He's also considering his next move if the referendum fails. One possibility is to add portable buildings to accommodate all of the students. But Frick says the overcrowding will catch up with them eventually. If the referendum passes it would add 87 dollars a year to the property tax bill of the owner of a one hundred thousand dollar home.

Length :30/:10

Date: 1/1 – 3/31

Message: High Definition Television is now broadcast on WXOW 19.1.

FCC 5: PUBLIC HEALTH

Title: Chronic Wasting Disease

Info: Not as many deer will need to be killed to get rid of chronic wasting disease. For months the Department of Natural Resources had estimated 30-thousand deer would need to be killed near Mount Horeb. New aerial survey's show the population is about half that size. Hunters and sharpshooters have already shot Nine thousand deer over the last few months.

Title: Asphalt Plant

Info: Residents from Brice Prairie and the Town of Onalaska are asking lots of questions about a proposed asphalt plant. Mathy Construction experts tried to answer those questions at a public hearing. Around one thousand people attended the vent to learn more. A few residents made presentations of their concerns surrounding safety, environment and health and then Mathy Construction had experts speak about hose concerns.

Title: Lyme Disease

Info: The number of Lyme disease cases in Wisconsin and Minnesota is on the rise. In Wisconsin the number of people contracting the disease rose to 890, a 39% increase from the prior year. In Minnesota, 867 people developed Lyme disease last year, an 88% increase. One theory for the increase is that warm, moist weather in recent years has caused and explosion of deer ticks.

Title: Pregnant Women and War

Info: The war with Iraq can be stressful for a lot of people. Pregnant women are especially vulnerable. It's well established that stress can have an impact on your health and pregnant women need to pay extra attention to their stress level. Doctors say expectant mothers need to limit their exposure to war coverage. Moms-to-be can also eat properly; get enough sleep and exercise to help manage stress. Also, find ways to relax, yoga and meditation work great to get your mind off of worrying.

Title: Anti-Smoking Campaign

Info: Wisconsin is debuting a new anti-tobacco advertising campaign. It features leaders from Wisconsin's communities and emphasizes the dangers of second hand smoke, the cost of tobacco in Wisconsin and the importance of quitting. The ads are based on unscripted conversations with residents from around the state and are designed to deliver straight talk and real facts about both the health and economic costs of tobacco to the state.

Title: Smallpox

Info: A nurses union wants Governor Doyle to stop smallpox vaccinations in the state. The Wisconsin Federation of Nurses and Health Care Professionals says no more health care workers should get the vaccine after three people nationwide died of heart attacks. Two were nurses who lived in Florida and Maryland. The third was a National Guard member. The groups want Doyle to suspend the shots until federal officials investigate whether there's a link between the vaccine and heart problems. Six hundred people in Wisconsin have already received the shot.

Title: Norwalk Virus

Info: The Tomah V-A will decide whether to lift restrictions that have been in place for a few weeks. In early February, several patients at the hospital came down with what's called the Norwalk Virus. To stop the virus from spreading, the hospital cancelled visiting hours, suspended social activities and required staff to wear protective masks.

Public Health
PSA's/Events

1. Health and Fitness Expo

Date: 1/18

Length: 30

Message: WXOW 19 and UWL Sports Spirit partnered for a Health Fair at Mitchell Hall in La Crosse. WXOW 19 promoted the event through on-air announcements. Fitness and Health related topics were discussed and displayed at the expo. Several classes were also demonstrated at the event.

2. West Salem Relay for Life

Date: 3/28

Message: Cancer survivors gathered together in West Salem for an entire evening. It's a mini-marathon where at least one person from each team walks around a course for the entire night. Raises money for the American Cancer Society. WXOW 19 is a proud sponsor.

FCC 6: RECREATION

Title: Onalaska Pool

Info: There's a pool referendum question for Onalaska residents on the April 1st ballot. If you live there, you'll see two questions about a swimming pool. The first question is whether you think an aquatic center is needed. And whether you think the city of Onalaska should spend two million tax dollars. The city's old pool was built in 1996 and is no longer useable according to officials. Officials say the aquatic center is something the Town of Onalaska really needs.

Title: Dove Hunt

Info: For the first time ever, Wisconsin hunters will have a new target this fall. An appeals court has cleared the way for the first ever mourning dove hunting season. The hunt begins September 1st and runs for 60 days. Hunters can shoot 15 doves a day. Opponents of the hunt had kept the dove hunting season bottled up in court for the past three years. That process came to an end with the appeals court ruling. There are between four and five million mourning doves in the state. Wisconsin becomes the 39th state to have a dove hunting season.

Title: Hunting Fees

Info: It may cost you more to hunt and fish in Wisconsin next year. The state's Department of Natural Resources needs the extra money to fill a 17 million dollar hole next year. Money that will fund essential fish and wildlife programs. These fees haven't been increased in seven years; normally they go up about every four years. The state still has to vote on the proposal.

Title: Sunfish Days

Info: It may feel like winter, but it's just seven weeks until the Annual Sunfish Days celebration in Onalaska. We now know the identity of the Sunfish Parade Marshall. He is Tom Skogen. Tom works with Festival Foods in Onalaska. He is also very active in the community. The festival gets started on Thursday, May 22nd and runs through Sunday. Highlights are the parade on Saturday; the carnival midway is back this year, along with softball and volleyball tournaments.

Events include euchre, volleyball, snow volleyball and ice skating. WXOW 19 promoted the event heavily during the end of January this year.

FGC 7: CHILDREN'S ISSUES

Title: Spoiling New Borns

Info: Can you spoil a new born? Evidence shows you can't. Doctors say it's natural to want to hold a baby and you should hold them as much as you can. Moms and babies get together once a week at Franciscan Skemp to answer a number of parenting questions.

Title: TV Watching

Info: Psychologists are suggesting parents keep tabs on their children's TV viewing habits as the war in Iraq goes on. Psychology Professor and Family Therapist Bill Forchia says parents should be alert for anxiety in kids, behavioral changes or nightmares. If parents see signs of that, Forchia suggests TV viewing be interrupted appropriately.

Title: Budget Problems

Info: Wisconsin public schools will have to make tough decisions due to budget cuts, that from Wisconsin's top education official during a visit to La Crosse. Students at Longfellow Middle School got the chance to talk with Wisconsin Superintendent of Public Instruction Elizabeth Burmaster. Burmaster visits schools throughout the state to get a first hand look at what's working. She says education will take a financial hit, things like free breakfast programs and after school activities face an uncertain future. Burmaster is also concerned about the emphasis on more standardized testing. She says it's important that students develop comprehensive learning skills, not just learning what's going to be on a test.

DEFENSE STRATEGY

In an hour-long "Primetime Thursday" report, Diane Sawyer goes behind the scenes of Clara Harris' headline-making murder case. Harris' attorney, George Parnham, granted "Primetime" unprecedented access as he worked with a team of forensic and jury experts to develop her defense.

Thursday, March 13, 2003

WAR ROOM

"Primetime Thursday" takes an hour-long look at some of the high-risk scenarios that could become reality if the U.S. leads an attack against Iraq. While some experts anticipate a quick and decisive U.S. victory, military planners must still consider complications that could arise in Iraq and around the globe. Peter Jennings is scheduled to interview General Tommy Franks, head of the U.S. Central Command, in Qatar about U.S. preparations for war. Cynthia McFadden moderates a special "war room" panel of military and policy experts, as "Primetime" explores several scenarios, including a protracted ground war featuring house-to-house urban combat in Baghdad and an escalating nuclear crisis in North Korea.

Jason required months of reconstructive surgery.

JASON PRIESTLY (PART II)

Correspondent: Barbara Walters

Jason Priestly is walking again, but running is a challenge for him. The healing process will take a t least a year. Jason's big break came on "90210, at the age of 21. He says that the show did wonderful things for him. He doesn't know if he will race again. His brush with death changed his views on life! He was dead for one minute until they revived him.

AMERICAN IDOL

Correspondent: Chris Connelly; Producer: Reid Orvedahl

"American Idol" puts people through humiliating situations; the winners and the losers both face it. Only 32 survive and in the end – only one! All the three judges, Simon Cowell, Paula Abdul and Randy Jackson, have different views. Simon is blunt and Paula is the queen of nice. Simon says that these people don't have any experience but yet expect to be famous. The show does give the singers instant stardom.

GMAB-SPEED TRAPS

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Glenn Ruppel

John Stossel says that this town has more law enforcement than anywhere else. The city's cops hand out 2,000 tickets a year. Drivers are pulled over for anything and everything, especially those traveling through the town. People have made accusations that some have been handcuffed to chairs, abused, and mistreated by the police. The town raises 90% of their income from tickets. John Stossel says don't drive through the town, and adds "give me a break!"

BATTERED HUSBANDS

Correspondent: Juju Chang; Producer: Joanna Breen

An expose of women beating on the men in their lives. Tawny Kitaen and Chuck Finley appeared to have a good marriage, until it was revealed that Tawny was abusing Chuck, repeatedly. It's believed that women who engage in violence are mainly protecting themselves. However, after interviewing some of these violent women, one can say it's not true. Women who batter often feel that their actions are justified. Many times women cover up the abuse by eliciting sympathy from people. Many victims never report the abuse because they are afraid to be seen as causing it. The only way to change this view is to hold women as accountable for domestic violence as men have historically been.

ARMLESS CHEERLEADER

Correspondent: Bob Brown; Producer: Tom Goldstone

Jessica Parks has an amazing sense of balance. Jessica is 17 years old, involved in soccer, cheerleading and has a busy life. Jessica was born without arms; growing up, she learned to scoot on her bottom. At one time, she was fitted with prosthetic arms, but found that she did better without them. Jessica isn't as self-conscious as she once was. She has learned to do the near impossible. She now concentrates on cheerleading for her high school team. She has a special spirit!

SADDAM

Correspondent: Barbara Walters; Producer: Martin Clancy

Barbara Walters interviewed Saddam Hussein in 1981 after an attack on a nuclear reactor under construction in Iraq. The astronaut, Ilan Ramon, then a colonel in the Israeli Air Force, led a F-16 Fighter raid on the reactor, destroying it. Three weeks after the event, Barbara spoke with Saddam, in what was then his first TV appearance before American viewers.

GMAB-PETA

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Kristy Kendall

Ingrid Newkirk, spokesperson for the People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, appears to support the PETA activist displays of protest against fur harvesting, milk drinking, animal husbandry and medical use of animals. PETA members are told not to wear wool, silk, leather products and have limited diets. Additionally, they protest the visiting of zoos, the cutting of lawns.

SADDAM'S SON

Correspondent: Brian Ross ; Producer: Chris Vlasto

Uday Hussein is the son of Saddam. Uday is accused of murders, rapes, and overall, mayhem. He has had free reign in the country; he steals, lies, and kills. Soccer players were beaten if they didn't win. Uday has raped 12 year-olds, and even a Russian ballerina. Uday only gets excited when his victim is bleeding. Uday has been in hiding since the last invasion.

CHRISTINA AGUILERA (PART I)

Correspondent: Chris Cuomo ; Producer: Marc Dorian

Christina Aguilera hit the top of the music charts with a dynamic voice, but she has destroyed her image. She says that she isn't selling out...she is refusing to fit the mold. Christina grew up outside of Pittsburgh, PA. She later moved to Rochester to live with her grandparents. Her family life was not perfect; her father abused both Christina and her mother. Christina learned to sing at the age of eight. She appeared on Star Search , making it to the final round, and then, losing. She landed a part on "The Mickey Mouse Club, and has co-starred with Britney Spears and Justin Timberlake. Her first single "Genie in a Bottle flew off the shelf, selling a million copies in four weeks!

CHRISTINA AGUILERA (PART II)

Correspondent: Chris Cuomo; Producer: Marc Dorian

Christina Aguilera shed her old image in a hurry. She had a lot by the age of 21. She felt that she wasn't being true to herself. Her album "Striped" was seen as a sexual sellout. She reveals her emotional damage in her songs. The 22-year-old is worth millions. Her career is stronger than ever.

THE WALTZING CRANES

Correspondent: Bob Brown; Producer: Trish Arico

Can construction workers dance? A film that is only four minutes long is mesmerizing. The crew was paid and seems to have fun. Anne believes that everyone can dance, and she has proof.

GMAB-DIAMOND

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Glenn Ruppel

John Stossel says that diamonds are overrated. He says that they are just rocks that don't have anything to do with love. Men didn't always give diamonds to women, this wasn't the custom originally. Most people can't tell the difference between cubic zirconium and diamond. John Stossel says "Give Me A Break!

Friday, February 28, 2003

AIR FORCE RAPE (PART I)

Correspondent: Lynn Sherr; Producer: Glenn Silber

Twenty female Air Force cadets claim that they and fellow classmates were raped at the Air Force Academy. Their dreams were crushed when the male cadets abused and raped them. The Air Force Academy ignored their reports of sex crimes to keep their image looking clean. One cadet says she was warned by an upperclassman that she would be raped, and medical staff warned them to get on birth control. Finally, a cadet sent a local newspaper a report of her rape. There have been 99 reported assaults or rapes in the past. Out of the 99 cases, 20 have been investigated, and one has been court marshaled.

AIR FORCE RAPE (PART II)

Correspondent: Lynn Sherr; Producer: Glenn Silber

In 1991, the Navy was forced to face the music when they were caught treating their female colleagues badly. Beth says she was blackmailed into being raped by an upperclassman. He continued to use her, raping her on five separate occasions. She didn't tell anyone, at first, because she was hell bent on making her military career work. She eventually reported the crimes to the Special Investigation Department. She was reprimanded for having sex in the dorms! All the women left due to their rapes.

ROBERT BLAKE

Correspondent: Barbara Walters ; Producer: Alan Goldberg

Robert Blake spoke to Barbara Walters against his attorney's advice. He claims to be innocent. He is now in jail pending his trial. However, Blake says that he is already dead, the verdict is not important. He believes that his career is finished. He has had a spectacular life.

GMAB-BURGLAR

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Frank Mastropolo

Ron Dixon woke to find an intruder in his home. He took his nine millimeter gun and shot the intruder. The robber is now in Riker's Island. However, now Dixon has been arrested and threatened with criminal possession of a firearm because the gun was not licensed. He may have to serve time in the same facility as the robber! John Stossel says "Give Me A Break!"

Friday, March 7, 2003

LIONEL TATE

Barbara Walters reports on Lionel Tate, the Florida boy who, a few years ago, was tried as an adult and convicted of first degree murder for killing six-year-old playmate Tiffany Eunick when he was 12 years old. What happened next made national headlines -- Tate was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole.

FORGOTTEN P.O.W.s

As America prepares for battle in Iraq, Correspondent Brian Ross interviews P.O.W.s from the first Gulf War who share their largely untold stories of horrific treatment in captivity. Twenty-one Americans were taken prisoner by Saddam Hussein's army and held in the so-called "Baghdad Biltmore" by the Iraqi secret police.

KEEPING FAITH

John Schaeffer's decision to join the Marines baffled his family and a community. He was the product of a New England prep school, a young athlete and poet from a family of intellectuals. His unorthodox decision changed the way John and his father, Frank, thought about each other, about family, community and even their country. Together Frank and John wrote a book, "Keeping Faith," to recount their journey.

PRICED OUT

Concert tickets prices for groups like The Who, Sting and The Rolling Stones have skyrocketed in recent years, leaving many fans priced out of the fun. Jami Floyd talks with people from all sides of the music industry to find out why, and finds the answer depends on whom you ask.

GMAB

For 60 years, American troops have trained on Vieques Island off Puerto Rico, until recently when a civilian was killed by a bomb that was mistakenly dropped. If the base goes, so too will a $300 million-a-year stimulus to the local economy. John Stossel says "Give Me a Break" to protestors who want to keep open a base that is no longer in operation.
